PATIENT INSTRUCTIONS

General

Working together with the Calgary Liver Unit, the goal of EFW Radiology Liver Programs is to provide information, education and support, so you can make informed decisions.

Finding abnormalities or changes early, gives you the best chance of preventing or treating them if necessary. EFW Liver Programs are imaging reports used to aid in this process. It is important to know that no ultrasound test is 100% accurate. They are limited in their scope and not a guarantee that an abnormality or change will be identified.

- Please arrive 10 minutes in advance of your appointment time.
- Confirming your identification is essential to ensure accurate medical records and for your protection and security.
- You will be asked at EACH VISIT to provide a VALID HEALTH CARE CARD and PICTURE ID.
- If you do not have your card you may be asked to return for your examination.
- Please bring your requisition with you.
- Phone to cancel if unable to keep booked appointment.
- Please notify reception if you are diabetic.
- Patients suspecting pregnancy should consult their physician before exam date.

Liver Ultrasound Patient Preparation

- Do not eat for 6 hours prior to exam.
- Clear fluids allowed. No milk or cream.
